

Child Find

Child Find is a collaborative process to identify children suspected of having a disability to evaluate and identify need for Special Education and Related Services. Early identification of disabilities assists parents, students, and schools in the design of appropriate educational services and supports.

School-Age Children

If your child turned 5 years old after August 31st of the current school year or your child is currently in school and you suspect your child may have a disability that is impacting his or her access to education, please contact Kristen Fairbank.
